

Heather Banules, MSN, RN, FNP
Bio

Heather Banules is the Associate Director of Work Connections at the University of Michigan. Heather earned her Master of Science in Nursing at Oakland University and is a board eligible family nurse practitioner. She has a diverse and extensive background in disability case management, inpatient capacity management, pediatric critical care, and trauma nursing. Heather is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, the American Association of Occupational Nurses, and the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners. Additionally, she is an external advisory board member for the Center for Occupational Health and Safety Engineering at the University of Michigan. Heather's treatment philosophy is to help individuals reach their optimal level of wellness while identifying their abilities and empowering individuals through patient education.