

EDUCATING EMPLOYERS
FOR OVER 70 YEARS

Matthew McCreary

Matthew McCreary has been in Risk/Safety Management for 25 years with extensive experience in a broad cross section of industries. His experience includes aluminum foundry operations, machining, heavy equipment, automotive parts fabrication, and assembly to the Casino/Gaming/Hospitality industry. His experience has included not only the financial aspects of risk, health, and safety matters but safety improvement, loss prevention, safety auditing, productivity improvement, regulatory agency negotiation, state voluntary investigation, risk-based corrective action, private party allocation negotiations, litigation support and Kaizen training support. Matthew has been known to dress up as Captain Safety and challenge workers to a push up contest.
